ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The contents of the report represent the efforts of many individuals who assisted in mailing, editing, processing, and preparing for publication the results of the 1991 Annual Census of Establishments (ACE). This report summarizes the findings of the survey of employers on Guam. We would like to thank all the employers whose cooperation made this report possible.

The project leader was Gary A. Hiles. Sunny K. Bathan formatted this report. Lisa J. Whitehouse and Marie S. Heflin were primarily responsible for the voluminous task of maintaining the address file, mailings, editing, follow-up, and key punching necessary to conduct this survey. Invaluable assistance was provided by Bill Massey and Celi S. Cruz.

Acknowledgement is due the University of Guam Computer Center and staff under the direction of Dr. Luan Nguyen for providing substantial data processing support. Special appreciation goes to Ms. Frances Villaverde of the Computer Center for the computer programming support necessary to produce this report.

Acknowledgement also goes to the U.S. Department of Labor's Employment and Training Administration for their cooperation in providing technical and financial assistance.

ANNUAL CENSUS HIGHLIGHTS

The March 1991 Annual Census of Establishments report is the eighth consecutive annual publication for this employer establishment census survey on Guam.

During the five year period from March 1986 to March 1991, employment growth has been very substantial with an overall increase of 20,436 jobs representing a 67 percent increase. Private sector employment during this period increased by 55 percent, whereas, government employment increased by only four percent. The percentage increases by private industry and public sector during this period are as follows:

	1986	1991	Change
Construction	4,220	10,420	+ 147%
Agriculture	140	290	+ 107%
Transportation and Public Utilities	1,950	3,700	+ 90%
Services	6,660	11,870	+ 78%
Retail Trade	6,260	10,550	+ 69%
Wholesale Trade	1,140	1,850	+ 62%
Manufacturing	1,300	1,950	+ 50%
Finance, Insurance, And Real Estate	1,830	2,450	+ 34%
Govt. of Guam	10,670	11,890	+ 11%
Federal Govt.	7,120	6,730	-5%

Distribution tables of private sector employers by employee size and industry are contained in Table 3 of the 1988, 1989, 1990, and 1991 reports. A comparison by year is shown below:

YEAR	TOTAL	ESTABLISHMENT COUNT
		1-4	5-9	10-19	20-49	50-99	100-UP

Trends in Average Hourly & Real Earnings

Over the last decade average hourly earnings of private sector nonsupervisory or production workers on Guam have increased 49% from $5.41 to $8.04 while the U.S. average has increased by almost the same percentage rate, 42% from $7.25 to $10.31. While wage increases on Guam were lower during the early part of the decade, during the most recent five year period the increase on Guam was 31% versus 18% for the U.S. The average hourly earnings in the U.S. for this group is now 28% above Guam's.

Earnings adjusted for inflation as a measure of the buying power of earnings - real earnings - declined 4% over the decade in the U.S. while they declined 20% on Guam. More alarming is the decline in real earnings over the 13 year period from 1978 - 1991, in which they declined to only 66% of their 1978 level for Guam and 88% of the 1978 level for the U.S. During this period real earnings were eroded substantially in all industry division on Guam, the declines range from 47% for transportation to 12% for construction. The transportation industry on Guam in 1978 had the highest monetary earnings substantially above all other industries. It has seen the lowest growth in earnings and has suffered the greatest plunge in real earnings as the hourly earnings become more closely aligned with earnings in other industries. Deregulation of the airline industry is thought to be a major factor in this. In the most recent two year period on Guam, monetary wages have risen a little faster than the consumer price index, resulting a 1% increase in real earnings in what appears to be a turn around in the long downward trend.

Government of Guam average hourly earnings of all employees increased 96% over the six year period from 1985 to 1991 and their real earnings rose 36%.

Consumer Price Index (CPI) deflators are used to compute real earnings by dividing the monetary earnings by the CPI. While monetary earnings growth for non-supervisory workers on Guam closely parallels that of the U.S., the CPI index for Guam shows price levels tripling (304%) versus doubling (207%) for the U.S. from 1978 to 1991.

MAP OF GUAM

The Annual Census of Establishments' employment by citizenship tables were expanded with additional detail beginning in March 1988 to measure the effect of the Compact of Free Association Act on employment of Micronesians on Guam. We began collecting and reporting data on the H-1 category in 1991. A comparative analysis of the 1988, 1989, 1990, and 1991 figures is as follows:

TECHNICAL NOTES

ANNUAL CENSUS OF ESTABLISHMENTS (ACE)

The questionnaire requested information concerning total employment, and employment distribution by sex, full-time/part-time, and citizenship status.

The employment data derived from the ACE for March 1991 was collected on survey forms mailed to 3,360 reporting units on Guam. Extensive efforts were made to obtain a complete count of all employees. A comprehensive delinquency control system was employed which resulted in a .15 percent overall non-response rate. Of the 3,360 units sampled, 931 reported no employees, were self-employed, had gone out of business, etc., 2,424 reported employees, and 5 failed to report.

INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION

Employment statistics in this report are classified in accordance with the Standard Industrial Classification Manual (SIC), 1987 edition, prepared by the Statistical Policy Division, Office of Management and Budget, Executive Office of the President. Prior year's ACE data were classified with the 1972 classification system so that time series constructed using both periods will not be directly comparable for some industries although the employment reclassification changes at the division level is negligible.

Reporting establishments are classified into significant economic groups, by assigning a four-digit SIC code, on the basis of major products or activity as determined by the establishments' percent of total sales or receipts for the previous calendar year. All data for an establishment making more than one product or engaging in more than one activity are classified under the industry of the most important product or activity based on the percentages reported.

SURVEY QUESTIONNAIRE DEFINITIONS

EMPLOYMENT. Employed persons include both permanent and temporary employees and those who work either full-time or part-time during a specified payroll period. Workers on an establishment payroll who are paid sick leave (when pay is received directly from the employer), on paid holiday or paid vacation, or who work during only a part of the specified pay period are counted as employed. Persons on the payroll of more than one establishment during the pay period are counted in each establishment which reports them, whether the duplication is due to turnover or multiple job-holding. Persons are considered employed if they receive pay for any part of the specified pay period, but they are not considered employed if they receive no pay at all for the pay period. Since proprietor, the self-employed, and unpaid family workers do not have the status of "paid employees," they are not included. Domestic workers in households are also excluded. Federal Government employment statistics refer to civilian employees only.

FULL-TIME AND PART-TIME JOBS. Full-time jobs are those at which persons worked an average of 35 hours or more a week during the pay period that included the 12th day of the month, and part-time jobs are those at which persons worked an average of less than 35 hours a week during the same reference period.

CITIZENSHIP STATUS

A list of immigrant and non-immigrant alien categories obtained from the U.S. Department of Justice, Immigration and Naturalization Service, General Information publication M-50 (Rev. 2-22-89)N follows.

IMMIGRANTS.

PERMANENT RESIDENT ALIEN (PRA). - A Permanent Resident Alien is an immigrant that holds an alien registration receipt card (Form I-551 or Form I-151; commonly called a "green card").

NON-IMMIGRANTS.

A - Government Official - this classification applies to you if you are an ambassador, public minister, diplomat, or consular officer, or other official or employee assigned to represent your country to the United States. You must be accredited by your government and accepted by our government. This category also applies to your immediate family, servants or attendants, and their immediate families.

B - Visitor - this classification applies to you if you have a home in a foreign country to which you will return after a short stay in the United States, and your stay is for one of the following reasons:

(1) For Business - to attend meetings, buy goods, negotiate contracts, act as a representative of a foreign employer;

(2) For Pleasure - to tour, visit friends or family, sightsee.

C - Transit - this classification applies to you if you must pass through this country on your way to a third country and will not need to stay in the United States for more than a few days. If you are a foreign representative to the United Nations and are not eligible for a "G" nonimmigrant classification, this category allows you to travel only to and from the U.N. Headquarters District.

D - Crewman - this classification applies to you if you are working as a crewman on a vessel or aircraft, and your work is required for normal operation of the ship or plane. NOTE: This does not apply to U.S. fishing boats.

E - Treaty Trader or Investor - this classification is correct if you have the nationality of a country which has a trade treaty with the United States and;

(1) You represent a company which will carry on trade with the United States. Your U.S. office must do 51% or more of its business (trade) with your country; or

(2) You are directing and developing a business in which you have invested a substantial amount of capital.

This category also applies to your spouse and unmarried children under 21 years of age.

F - Academic Student - this classification is for you if you will be studying an academic course at a school authorized by INS to allow foreign students to attend. You must have a home in a foreign country to which you will return when you complete your studies. This classification also applies to your spouse and unmarried children under 21 years of age. NOTE: If you wish to study a vocational or non-academic course see "M - Non-academic Student".

G - Representative to International Organization - this classification applies to you if you are accredited by your government to represent it to an international organization such as the United Nations, World Bank, or Red Cross. This classification also applies to your spouse and unmarried children, your staff, your servants and attendants.

H - Temporary Worker - this classification applies to you if you are coming to the United States to work in a temporary job and have a home in a foreign country to which you will return after your temporary stay. There are three different classes:

(1) Alien of distinguished merit and ability - if you are a professional or otherwise of distinguished ability and the temporary job requires these unique qualities, this is the proper category for you. NOTE: If you are a graduate of a foreign medical school you may be classified H-1 only if you are coming to teach or conduct research at a public or non-profit institution.

(2) Temporary Services for general labor - if you have a skill which is in short supply in the United States and the job you will fill is only a temporary one, this is the proper category for you. NOTE: If you are a graduate of a foreign medical school you may not be classified as an H-2.

(3) Trainee - If you will receive training which is not available in your home country and which you will use outside of the United States, this is the proper category for you. Additionally, the person providing your training must have an established, formal program to provide the training. NOTE: If you are a graduate of a medical school you may not be classified as an H-3.

(4) Dependents - Your spouse and unmarried children under 21 years of age may be classified as H-4's, if you are classified H-1, H-2, or H-3. (See "Special Requirements - H Petitions".)

I - Foreign Information Media Representative - this classification is for you if you will represent a foreign newspaper, radio station, television station, news service, etc., in the United States. This classification would include your spouse and unmarried children under 21 years of age.

J - Exchange Alien - this classification applies to you if you will participate in a program approved by the United States Information Agency. Your program participation can be as a student, scholar, trainee, teacher, professor, research assistant, specialist, or leader in a field of specialized knowledge. If you are a graduate of a foreign medical school and you wish to receive graduate medical education or training in the United States you must meet special requirements. These requirements can be explained to you by a consular official, an immigration official or by contacting the Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates. The ECFMG is located at 3624 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19104.

To further qualify as an exchange alien you must have a home in a foreign country to which you will return after your stay in the United States. This classification applies to your spouse and unmarried children under 21 years of age.

K - Fiance or Fiancee - this classification is for you if you are planning to marry a citizen of the United States. Your marriage to the petitioner must take place within 90 days of your arrival in this country. Your unmarried children under 21 years of age would also qualify for this classification. (See "Special Requirements - K Petitions".)

L - Intra-Company Transferee - this classification applies to you if you are coming to the United States to work for the parent company, branch, subsidiary or affiliate of your foreign employer. You must have been employed by the foreign company for at least one year immediately prior to your transfer to this country. Also, your employment must have been as an executive, manager, or specialist and the job in the United States must be in one of those categories. This classification can also include your spouse and unmarried children under 21 years of age. (See "Special Requirements - L Petitions".)

M - this classification applies to you if you will be studying at a vocational or other non-academic school which has been authorized by INS to allow foreign students to attend. You must have a home in a foreign country to which you will return after you complete your studies. Your spouse and unmarried children under 21 years of age can also be included in this classification.

N - this classification applies to you if you are a parent or child of a person special immigrant permanent resident status as an officer, employee or a family member of an officer or employee of an international organization who was admitted to the United States as a G-IV nonimmigrant.

OTHERS - Most of the employees classified in the "other" category are those aliens authorized to work in the United States by the Compact of Free Association Act (P.L. 99-239).

The following information is furnished by the Immigration and Naturalization Service in an effort to clarify the authorization of certain aliens in the United States to accept employment.

'Paragraph 212 of Title 8 Code of Federal Regulations, provides that the following classes of person, ".....may enter into, lawfully engage in employment, and establish residence in the United States and its territories and possessions without regard to paragraphs (14), (20) and (26) of Section 212(a) of the Act pursuant to the terms of Public Law 99-239." (Paragraphs (14), (20) and (26) of Section 212(a) relate to the requirements for labor certification, visa, and passport:)

- (1) a person who, on the day preceding the effective date of this Compact, is a citizen of the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, as defined in Title 53 of the Trust Territory Code in force on January 1, 1979, and has become a citizen of the Marshall Islands or the Federated States of Micronesia;
- (2) a person who acquires the citizenship of the Marshall Islands or the Federated States of Micronesia at birth, on or after the effective date of the respective Constitution;
- (3) a naturalized citizen of the Marshall Islands or of the Federated States of Micronesia who has been an actual resident there for not less than five years after attaining such naturalization and who holds a certificate of actual residence; or
- (4) a person entitled to citizenship in the Marshall Islands by lineal descent whose name is included in a list to be furnished by the Government of the Marshall Islands to the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service and any descendants of such persons, provided that such person holds a certificate of lineal descent issued by the Government of the Marshall Islands.'

Such residence in the United States does not, however, satisfy the residence requirements for the purpose of naturalization, nor to petition for benefits for alien relatives under the Act.

LIMITATIONS

Total employment from the establishment survey is not directly comparable to the Bureau of Labor Statistics' estimates of the number of persons employed obtained from the "household" survey. The "payroll" series excludes unpaid family workers, domestic servants in private homes, proprietors and other self-employed persons, all of whom are covered by two or more establishments at each place of employment, while the "household" survey counts him only once, and classifies him according to his single major activity. Certain persons on unpaid leave are counted as employed in the "household" survey, but are not included in the employment count derived from the "payroll" series. Excluded from the "household" survey are Non-immigrant Alien workers and employees under 16 years of age who are included in the "payroll" survey. In addition to these differences in concept and scope, the surveys employ different collection and estimating techniques. Therefore, although each survey measures changes in employment, direct comparability should not be expected. However, over time, the trends are expected to be similar. The "household" survey places its primary emphasis on the employment status of individuals and also provides a great deal of information on the demographic characteristics (e.g., sex, age, ethnic background) of the labor force. The survey is not well suited to providing detailed information on the industrial distribution of employment. The establishment survey, while providing limited information on personal characteristics of workers, is an excellent vehicle for obtaining these detailed industrial data, and in addition, it provides hours and earnings information which is directly related to the employment figures. The "payroll" and "household" surveys therefore may be regarded as complementary.

HISTORICAL TABLES

Data for these tables is from the Current Employment Statistics (CES) survey except the table on Employment by Sex which is from the Annual Census of Establishments (ACE) survey. This survey is conducted using a large sample of private business establishments and all Government agencies. Estimates are made for the number of employees on payrolls, the number of production or non-supervisory workers and average weekly hours, average hourly earnings, and average weekly earnings for these production or non-supervisory workers. The census data may differ very slightly due to the inclusion of Foreign Government employment on Guam and rounding. The total employment estimates are based or bench-marked on the ACE survey.
