The collection and preparation of the kinds of data included in this yearbook necessarily required the assistance of many individuals in several departments in the U.S. Virgin Islands. The following persons are acknowledged for their various contributions in the publication of this document.

We are particularly grateful to Dr. Michael Levin, Population Division of the Bureau of the Census, for reviewing a draft version and for providing many valuable recommendations for improvement.

Dr. Elsayed Elmoghazy, survey statistician and Ms. Jerrilyn King, administrative assistant, both in the Eastern Caribbean Center, gave substantive assistance in formatting the tables and in the preparation of supporting material.

Dr. Noreen Michael, Director, and Ms. Lauritz Hutchinson-Mills, Assistant Director, Bureau of Health Statistics, Department of Health provided data on vital statistics; Dr. Valerie George, Director, Planning, Research and Evaluation,

Department of Education; and Dr. John Ambrose, Director, Institutional Research and Planning, University of the Virgin Islands made data available on education statistics in the public and nonpublic school system and the University respectively.

Mr. Dan Inveen, Chief Economist, Bureau of Economic Research, was the source of the data on tourism, and Agent/Field Supervisor Joseph P. Angol, Narcotics Strike Force together with Ms. Risse E.S. Richards, Director, and Cpl. Ivan Rampersad, Planning Research and Development Bureau of the Police Department supplied crime data. Sgt. Nibbs of the Motor Vehicle Bureau, Department of Public Safety, was very helpful with data on motor vehicles.

The Eastern Caribbean Center is grateful to all persons who assisted this effort, and we look forward to your continued support in the next issues of the yearbook.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

The University of the Virgin Islands takes pleasure in the release of the 1995 Statistical Yearbook of the Virgin Islands. As part of our mission of public service to the community, the University strives to meet a broad variety of public need in the statistical data area.

This document is intended to provide, between one set of covers, essential baseline data that can inform decision making, planning and policy formulation both in the public and private sectors.

By this effort, the University aspires to begin a series of similar publications that will continually update its users with statistical data.

Please send your comments and suggestions for improvement of this publication to the Eastern Caribbean Center.

MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

The 1995 Statistical Yearbook of the Virgin Islands is offered as a reference tool for agencies and individuals inside and outside of the Territory that are in need of basic data concerning the US Virgin Islands. This publication is a historic accomplishment for the Territory, in that for the first time, accurate basic data on a wide range of topics including population, education, housing, finance, revenue and budget, tourism and crime, have been detailed in one single publication. The Yearbook is viewed as one of the major achievements of the University's Research Institute in the Eastern Caribbean Center, mainly because of its potential value to the capacity building efforts of the Territory.

Dr. Frank Mills, Mr. Basil Ottley and Ms. Carmen Rogers-Green are to be commended for their very professional efforts and for the dedication that was necessary to make the yearbook a reality. This publication helps the Eastern Caribbean Center to fulfill its mission of providing scientific and accurate information in support of rational development in the U.S. Virgin Islands and the rest of the Caribbean. It is our sincere wish that the data provided here will support and advance the type of decision-making needed to promote a sustainable society in the Virgin Islands.

FORWARD

Some year ago, representatives of statistical offices of the Insular Areas of the United States met at a meeting at the East West Center. It was then suggested that each of the areas should begin a series of statistical yearbooks for its respective area. At the consistent urging of Dr. Michael Levin of the Population Division of the Bureau of the Census, we are finally able to produce such a document. This publication has only been made possible through the substantial support of the Office of Insular Affairs, Department of the Interior, particularly with the assistance of its director, Allen Stayman, and economist Richard Miller.

In this first effort, we have aspired to compile a comprehensive set of statistical tables covering such topics as population, vital statistics, education, labor force and employment, household and personal income, rime, tourism, housing, motor vehicles, finance and revenue and budget. We hope that this will meet many of the needs of the local public and nonpublic sectors, as well as federal officials and off-island businessmen who constantly use these data.

We also urge users of this document to share with us their comments on how we might improve the usefulness of the publication in the subsequent series.
